The Secret Language of Books
A Guide to Story Elements
2019 expanded edition
NoveList
© 2019
When it comes to talking about books, there are endless ways to describe them, but we’re often quick to let one concept take the lead — if there are robots or aliens, it must be science fiction. If there’s a haunted house, then it’s horror. But there’s so much more to books than just one simple descriptor.

And that is the challenge: making a book discoverable when you don’t know exactly WHY any one reader might be interested in it or what reading experience they’re looking for. The reader may be looking for a particular genre, like psychological suspense, or they might be seeking a particular feeling, like inspiring or gritty (we call this appeal). Some readers want a specific theme or plot of a book (like fish out of water or opposites attract).

That’s why NoveList created a vocabulary that tries to tell the complete story (pun intended). We developed this language in response to reading trends, as well as the needs of readers and librarians. None of these headings individually is the end-all-be-all to finding the right book but, using them together, readers can explore and narrow down their search to find books that fit the reading experience they want.

We’ve spent a lot of time making sure our headings are sound and can speak to librarians and readers alike. As authors continue to expand and experiment, we will continue to review and expand our headings — and we always welcome feedback. Please feel free to share your thoughts and questions with us at novelist@ebsco.com.

Happy reading!

Starter Questions
Use these to start conversations with readers.

Can you tell me about a book you’ve read and enjoyed?
What movies and TV shows have you enjoyed?
Which of your favorite authors or series do you wish had a new book?
What are you in the mood for today?

Pace
Pace is the rate at which a story unfolds for the reader. We identify books at either end of the spectrum. We also tag those that start slowly, then accelerate as the story progresses.

Fast-paced
Events in these exciting books unfold rapidly, moving the reader quickly through the story.

Intensifying
These books gradually build in momentum throughout the story, resulting in a gripping conclusion.

Leisurely paced
Due to descriptive language, focus on detail, or careful development of character or setting, these books unfold slowly, allowing the reader to savor the narrative.

Why so few pace terms? Nobody is really looking for “medium-paced” books. It’s only an active appeal when it stands out on the spectrum.
Making Comparisons

Use comparisons to dig deeper into reading preferences. Do you prefer plot-driven or character-driven stories? Fast-paced or leisurely paced? Amusing and upbeat, or creepy and gruesome?

Storyline

Storyline is a quick way to determine a book’s focus and structure.

- Action-packed
  Pulse-pounding, high-octane excitement is the rule!

- Character-driven  Fiction use only
  Interior growth and development of characters is important.

- Intricately plotted
  These books have intricate, complicated, or elaborate storylines.

- Issue-oriented
  Issue-oriented books explore controversial themes, which may cover emotional, ethical, or social problems.

- Nonlinear
  Events in these books shift between time periods.

- Open-ended
  Instead of providing answers, these books invite readers to ponder events long after the last page.

- Own voices
  Here the protagonist and the author share a marginalized identity.

- Plot-driven  Fiction use only
  Events rather than characters propel these stories forward.

- Sweeping
  These sprawling stories span decades or generations and frequently include multiple locations and historical events.

- Unconventional
  Using unique or unexpected elements, these books may twist, adapt, or play with conventional storylines.

- World-building
  These books immerse the reader in vivid imaginary worlds of invented histories, languages, geography, or cultures.
Tone in NoveList

Do a quick search to find the right tone. For example, type AP strong sense of place.

Tone is the feeling that a book evokes in the reader. In many cases, this category best answers the question, “What are you in the mood for?”

Amusing
They may not make you laugh out loud, but these stories have a light humor that sometimes accentuates more serious themes.

Angst-filled
Characters in these books experience problems associated with adolescence, such as questions about sexuality, popularity, or social standing.

Atmospheric
These books evoke the story’s setting, whether it’s a gothic mansion or a small Midwestern town.

Bittersweet
A mixed emotional edge — both pleasant and painful — that is sustained throughout the story.

Bleak
A dark outlook, frequently devoid of faith in human nature and tending away from hope or optimism.

Chaste
These books about romantic relationships focus on the emotions of the characters, and contain no sex or descriptions of sexual activity.

Conservative (Nonfiction use only)
Represents a conservative (often Republican) perspective on American politics and social issues such as the environment, poverty, and the economy.
Creepy
Unsettling in a visceral, skin-crawling way, these books make the reader uneasy, and may often have supernatural elements and eerie settings.

Darkly humorous
The humor in these books derives from ironic or grimly satiric treatment of death, suffering, and other morbid subjects.

Disturbing
Approaching the darker side of human nature, these books are unsettling and often portray socially marginalized or dysfunctional individuals.

Dramatic
These cinematic books feature exciting and larger-than-life stories, depicting anything from historical events to space warfare.

Emotionally intense
Conveying great depth or complexity of emotion, these books explore the inner lives of characters in detail.

Explicit
These books contain lots of vividly described sex, ranging from the plainest (but plentiful) vanilla to the kinkiest of kink.

Feel-good
A gentle, comfortable, and hopeful feeling (not just a happy ending).

Funny
Laugh-out-loud humor characterizes these books.

Gossipy
Actions and people tend to be over-the-top and salacious.

Gross
Yuck! Including lots of nasty, oozing facts or details, these books may be educational or purely for entertainment.

Gruesome
Not for the squeamish, these books include a significant amount of explicit gore or other grisly elements.

Haunting
Often because of hard-hitting storylines, these books have a memorable, unforgettable quality that stays with the reader.

Heartwarming
These uplifting stories ultimately leave readers feeling emotionally satisfied.

Heartwrenching
These books convey emotions that are keenly distressing, hitting a nerve with readers and deeply affecting them.

High-drama
Juicy, sensational, and melodramatic, these books portray back-stabbing social scenes and catty personalities.

Homespun
Simplicity is key, often with a rural or small-town setting and characters who are unpretentious and cherish old-fashioned values.

Hopeful
While addressing weighty issues, these books incorporate some optimistic elements, expressing the belief that things may improve.

Impartial Nonfiction use only
Presents a balanced view of a contentious subject.

Humor comes in many varieties, so tone can help you get specific… Are you looking for light-hearted humor? Try amusing, funny, or silly. Want something more edgy? Look for darkly humorous or sardonic.
Tone

Impassioned  Nonfiction use only
These books convey strong emotions to readers because the authors are forcefully advocating a particular point of view, making an argument, or telling an emotional story.

Inspiring
These books have an enlightening or uplifting quality, which may or may not be religious in nature.

Irreverent
No institutions, people, or beliefs are off-limits in these humorous (and sometimes subversive) books.

Liberal  Nonfiction use only
Represents a liberal (often Democratic) perspective on American politics, politicians, and social issues such as the environment, poverty, and the economy.

Melancholy
While not grim or hopeless, these books are sad, somber, or gloomy.

Menacing
A sense of threat or menace pervades, evoking feelings of dread.

Mildly sensuous
Sex is present, but it’s not given pride of place. Relationships are most important, but sometimes characters act on their attractions.

Moody
A dark and brooding tone that borders on melodrama.

Moving
Emotionally resonant books that make readers feel invested in both the characters and the story.

Mystical
Touching on spiritual themes, these books often explore archetypes and incorporate metaphysical events.

Noisy
Because of rousing, energetic pictures or text, these stories lend themselves to loud readings.

Nostalgic
Characters reminisce, or the book looks back toward a particular place or time with longing and wistfulness.

Offbeat
Through plot twists, bizarre humor, and unique personalities, these quirky books recount unconventional, idiosyncratic, or unusual stories.

Patriotic
These books celebrate and show pride in one’s country and its achievements.

Quiet
Soothing, low-key stories that have a calming effect on young readers.

Racy humor
Including coarse or risqué material; these books refer to sex in a humorous way.

Reflective
Contemplative books featuring characters who think seriously about their lives and place in the world.

---

Some tone words are just for kids — for example, gross, noisy, quiet, silly, scary, & sweet are all terms that can help you find the perfect book for storytime, read-alouds, or (best of all!) naptime.
Romantic
These books feature strong romantic elements — either between characters or in the story itself. Happy endings not guaranteed!

Sad
Issues in these books may be very serious (such as death), or less serious but still challenging (such as a friend moving away).

Sardonic
Dry humor and biting wit set the tone in these stories.

Scary
These spooky books have a frightening or menacing feeling that will make young readers uneasy.

Self-deprecating Nonfiction use only
Never taking themselves too seriously, the authors humorously expose their own embarrassments, making readers sympathize, laugh, and sometimes cringe!

Serious
Marked by seriousness, gravity, or solemnity, these books confront social issues such as war, poverty, gender, or racial concerns.

Silly
The class clowns of literature, these books are often quite absurd and ridiculous but lots of fun.

Sobering
Addressing weighty social issues, these serious and hard-hitting books present a perspective that may be revelatory to the reader.

Spiritual Nonfiction use only
These nonfiction books represent a spiritual outlook on religion and spirituality.

Steamy
In adult books, the sex is pretty vivid and goes beyond just innuendo. In teen books, there is still an unmistakably sexy aura, although perhaps not as much graphic detail.

Strong sense of place
Powerfully depicted locales — real or imaginary — come alive and give a good sense of what makes a place unique.

Suspenseful
Ranging in intensity from subtle psychological unease to nail-biting suspense, these books keep readers on edge.

Sweet
With a light tone and appealing innocence, these endearing books are cute, playful, and otherwise delightful.

Thought-provoking
More than just telling a story, these books take on big ideas — anything from philosophical quandaries to time paradoxes.

Upbeat
These fun books are lighthearted, hopeful, and optimistic.

Violent
Not for the faint of heart, these books contain explicit or graphic violence.

Whimsical
These fanciful and playful books will charm and enchant readers, and often include fairy tales or other elements of fantasy.

For readers with a passion for place, direct them to books with a strong sense of place, and then pair it with a subject heading for a location — anything from Paris to Middle Earth.
Characters readers love
(and the appeal that tells you why)

Readers fall in love with Nimona, the quirky, spirited, strong female villain, even as she’s planning attacks on cities with genetically modified dragons.

Following a large cast of characters, including strong female protagonists, this LGBTQIA diverse story immerses the reader in a world of magic and intrigue.

Competition between brothers as told by Josh, a believable character appealing to middle grade kids into sports and culturally diverse characters.

Only applied to fiction, character appeal is especially for those readers who love books because of the characters.

Ability diverse
These characters live with physical, mental, or emotional conditions that can often be challenging.

Anthropomorphic
From cats solving mysteries to crayons quitting their day jobs, the non-human characters in these books offer a unique perspective.

Authentic
These characters behave in ways that accord with their age, nationality, and backgrounds.

Awkward
Often unsure of themselves, these characters lack the social savvy to navigate relationships and other interpersonal situations smoothly.

Believable
These characters ring true for young readers, and behave in ways that are consistent with their age and backgrounds.

Brooding
Haunted by past traumas or mistakes, these morose characters contemplate (and often must confront) what is wrong in the world.

Character duos
From best friends to odd couples, these books feature dynamic duos who take on the world together!
Character

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Character Type</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Complex</td>
<td>Intriguing and complicated, these multi-dimensional characters have conflicting motivations and desires.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Courageous</td>
<td>These brave and often self-sacrificing characters have strong convictions and face challenges with determination, despite the odds against them.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Culturally diverse</td>
<td>These books may feature characters from racial and ethnic minorities living in the United States, Europe, Canada, or Australia, as well as characters from non-white cultural groups living in other parts of the world.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Exaggerated</td>
<td>These larger-than-life characters often delight readers by adding to the humor or uniqueness of a story.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Flawed</td>
<td>These characters do not always act in their own best interests, and their sometimes misguided decisions form a central theme in the story.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Introspective</td>
<td>These characters examine their own feelings, thoughts, and motives, and what they find often has major repercussions for the story.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Large cast of characters</td>
<td>Whether because of sprawling storylines, epic scopes, or intricate plots, these books contain lots of characters — how well readers get to know them depends on the author.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

LGBTQIA diverse

Identifying as lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer, intersex, asexual, or just questioning, these characters are not stereotypes and are important to the story (even if in a secondary role).

Likeable

These appealing characters engage readers and are likeable, despite flaws.

Mischievous

These child characters frequently get into trouble or cause minor disasters due to their curiosity or intentional disregard for the rules.

Quirky

Eccentric and idiosyncratic, these characters range from peculiar to bizarre, and generally add to the charm or humor of the stories in which they appear.

Relatable

Because their emotions and experiences are recognizable, readers are able to identify with these characters and their dilemmas.

Religiously diverse

These characters follow or have a background in a religion other than Christianity. While their active level of involvement in the religion may vary, the character’s religious beliefs are an important element in the story.

To help all kinds of readers find all kinds of characters, look for ability diverse, culturally diverse, LGBTQIA diverse, and religiously diverse characters. Try adding our own voices appeal to find books in which the author and the character share a marginalized identity.

<tr>
<td>Sympathetic</td>
<td>While sometimes dealing with difficult situations or making poor decisions, these characters are presented in such a way that readers empathize with them.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Twisted</td>
<td>Deviant and often unsettling, these characters push the boundaries of literature through behavior that ranges from disturbing to illegal.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Unlikeable</td>
<td>Deliberately painted in an unflattering light, these characters will not gain the sympathy of readers, so there is less emotional investment if and when bad things happen to them.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Well-developed</td>
<td>Sometimes appearing in more plot-driven stories, these characters rise above others in the strength of their development.</td>

Different Writing Styles

Appeal helps compare very different styles...

“There is a loneliness that can be rocked. Arms crossed, knees drawn up, holding, holding on, this motion, unlike a ship, smooths and contains the rocker. It’s an inside kind—wrapped tight like skin. Then there is the loneliness that roams. No rocking can hold it down. It is alive. On its own. A dry and spreading thing that makes the sound of one’s own feet going seem to come from a far-off place.”

— from Beloved by Toni Morrison

“George’s voice became deeper. He repeated his words rhythmically as though he had said them many times before. ‘Guys like us, that work on ranches, are the loneliest guys in the world. They got no family. They don’t belong no place. They come to a ranch an’ work up a stake, and the first thing you know they’re poundin’ their tail on some other ranch. They ain’t got nothing to look ahead to.”

— from Of Mice and Men by John Steinbeck

Writing style terms tell us how a book is written, from the complexity of the language to the level of detail in the background.

Accessible  Nonfiction use only
These books explain a complicated or technical issue in an approachable manner.

Attention-grabbing
Irresistible to young readers, these books instantly draw them in.

Banter-filled
These books are characterized by snappy repartee.

Browsable  Nonfiction use only
Information is arranged in short sections and is often accompanied by illustrations or other graphics to encourage browsing.

Candid
The narrative style of these books is frank and forthcoming, even when discussing potentially sensitive or uncomfortable subjects.

Compelling
These powerful books draw readers irresistibly into the story.

Comprehensive  Nonfiction use only
These wide-ranging books thoroughly cover the background (and sometimes personalities!) of the subjects they explore.

Concise  Nonfiction use only
Without wasting a word, these nonfiction books succinctly deliver a wealth of information.

Conversational
Written informally, these read as if a close friend were telling a story.

Descriptive
Full of elaborate descriptions, with illustrative, expressive language.
Dialect-filled
Regional lingo and colloquialisms bring the setting to life.

Easy-to-understand  Nonfiction use only
These books make hard-to-understand things a little easier.

Engaging
These books capture the imagination of readers through narrative style, character, or use of detail.

Gritty
Characterized by a narrative style that includes dark and unsettling details, these books often depict violence.

Jargon-filled
These books use the specialized, technical language of a particular group, trade, or profession.

Lush
Descriptive language evokes the senses, making readers feel as if they are experiencing what is being described.

Lyrical
Graceful, beautiful language, often with a rhythmic or poetic quality.

Minimal text
Generally used with young children, these have few words per page. The words tend to be simple, and sentences are short.

Participatory
These books require the reader to engage with the story by answering questions or through physical interaction.

Persuasive  Nonfiction use only
These books may present both sides of an issue, but are frequently used to bolster a specific opinion.

Richly detailed
Details enrich these stories, sometimes focusing on a special body of knowledge (e.g., forensics, music, history, etc.).

Scholarly  Nonfiction use only
Using authoritative sources and addressing complex topics, the language in these books may be academic or technical.

Slang-heavy
Characters in these books make frequent use of slang, which often aids in character development.

Spare
Minimal and elegant with great attention paid to the use of language.

Stream of consciousness  Fiction use only
These novels and stories portray the uninterrupted and uneven flow of the characters’ consciousness.

Stylistically complex
Due to sophisticated language and narrative structure, these stories can often be read on a number of levels.

Thoughtful
Despite covering a sensitive or controversial topic, these books are considerately written and handle the subject with respect.

Well-crafted dialogue
These books contain authentic or notable dialogue.

Well-researched
The authors of these books demonstrate a deep and knowledgeable understanding of their subject.

Witty
These cleverly written books use language in an inventive, humorous way.

Wordplay-filled
These books are full of puns, palindromes, anagrams, and other clever uses of language.
Different kinds of Illustrations

Need a storytime book? Big and bold illustrations can be seen from across a crowd. Detailed books give young readers a chance to pore over the pictures. Colorful books are eye-catching for appealing displays!

Illustration

Both picture books and graphic novels have a unique set of qualities important to their readers, from color and drawing style to the mood evoked by the illustrations.

Big and bold
These illustrations convey ideas visually in a simple manner easily understood by young children. The contrast between bright colors and bold lines makes the pictures easily visible from a distance, even within a large group (and thus these books are a great choice for storytime!)

Black-and-white
The artwork is in black and white only, and may range from pen and ink drawings to watercolor-like effects in shades of gray.

Bold
The shapes or lines in these illustrations have a strong and striking appearance. The artwork may consist of simple, basic, or block-like shapes, and the lines may be dark, distinct, or thick.

Cartoony
This style features characters drawn with exaggerated, simplified features. Often humorous, it can be used to lighten difficult or disturbing themes.

Charming
These illustrations are captivating and pleasing to the eye. Often cute and playful, they offer visual support for the light or upbeat tone in a story.

Colorful
The full-color illustrations in these books feature vibrant colors. The artwork may vary widely, but the color palette is vivid.

Dark
Often used for emphasis in stories with a bleak, menacing, or serious tone, these illustrations are full of shadows and dark corners.

Delicate
Deft and fine in texture or structure. Lines are thinly drawn, and the effect of these pictures is subtle.

Detailed
These books convey a lot of information through the quantity and clarity of the detail within the objects and offer readers the chance to pore over the pictures.

Fanciful
These illustrations are imaginative and unexpected and may range from whimsical drawings to surrealistic art with a dreamlike quality.

Folk-art style
Recognized by its flat perspective, simplified or stylized shapes, and dramatic use of color; frequently appears to be created by either an untrained artist or one who does not adhere to academic standards for art.

Impressionistic
These evocative illustrations use soft lines, reflected light, and color to capture a sensory, emotion-filled impression of a scene or an object.

Inventive
These creative books challenge the reader’s perceptions with non-standard use of illustrative elements (including line, panels, or color).

Lavish
Whether through use of color, line, or detail, these illustrations are elaborate, sumptuous, and striking.

Minimally colored
Featuring a limited color palette, these books can be two-toned or grayscale with one or two brighter colors used as accents.

Muted
The subtle color may have a washed out or subdued quality. This restraint in the use of color often serves to set the tone of the story.

Nightmarish
Deliberately ugly, frightening, or unpleasant. Most likely to accompany storylines that are unpleasant with a creepy, disturbing, or menacing tone.

Photographic
These books use photographs as the primary method of illustration.

Realistic
These illustrations use correct proportions and accurate perspective. The content may not represent reality, but the drawing does.

Rough-edged
These illustrations are not sophisticated, polished, or elegant; instead, they have jagged lines and imperfect images, which serve to convey and emphasize the strong emotions being portrayed.

Surreal
These illustrations have a dreamlike or unreal quality, and express the workings of the subconscious. Typically done in a realistic style, they use unexpected juxtapositions of people or objects.

Textured
The visible texture of these illustrations adds realistic depth and detail through the skillful use of artistic medium.
Audio appeal covers everything from the performance (full cast or read by the author) to voice quality, tone, and artistic delivery.

Audio drama
Dramatic performances, often with a full cast.

Approachable
Through clear performances, difficult concepts become understandable.

Brisk
These narrators move their stories along with quick, agile readings.

Character accents
Vocal versatility brings characters and settings to life.

Comedic
These narrators make good use of comic timing.

Commanding
These narrators deliver strong and authoritative performances.

Crisp
Precise enunciation and clear tones distinguish these narrations.

Deadpan
Humor delivered in a cool, understated manner.

Detached
These performances are emotionally removed from the story.

Distinctly voiced
These narrators provide a multiplicity of voices for their characters.

Emotionally connected
These narrators capture the emotional content of the books they read.

Discover the perfect read in Horror

Horror draws on the unseen, the unknown, and the uncanny in order to explore — and expose — humanity's darkest fears. It provokes a range of visceral reactions in the reader, from the subtle chills of dread evinced by Victorian ghost stories to the adrenaline-laced fear and disgust evoked by contemporary zombie novels. Themes of abjection, monstrosity, and taboo are common.

Tips for Horror Fans

One way to approach horror is to consider a spectrum of dread (think The Haunting of Hill House) to gore (think Clive Barker). What are you looking for?

You can use appeal terms to pinpoint your preference. Tone appeals like moody, creepy, and menacing will lead you to the dread end of the scale. Looking for a real gut-churner? Try a search for violent, gruesome, or disturbing!

Some horror themes will always have a supernatural element, like vampire menace or moving to a haunted house; others may build on horrifying possibilities in the real world, like real life monsters.
Discover the perfect read in Mystery

Whodunnit? Mysteries are catnip to readers looking for puzzles to solve, no matter the subgenre (like cozy mysteries or police procedurals). They can be character-driven or action-packed, fast-paced or leisurely paced; in some cases, the location (or time period) is as much a part of the story as the characters are. Mysteries can range from funny and wordplay-filled to downright disturbing.

Discover the perfect read in Thrillers and Suspense

Increasing tension and menace keep thrillers and suspense readers on the edge of their seats. In some, protagonists have only a short time to neutralize fatal threats (to themselves or the world), while in others, a more subtle danger is in play. Sometimes, readers may know more about what's going on than the protagonists do, which amps up the suspense. Anticipation keeps readers hooked and pages flying by.

Discover the perfect read in Crime Fiction

Crime fiction thrives on what transpires in the shadows: the seedy underbelly of the big city, the forgotten desperation of small country towns, or even quiet domestic angst that begins to boil over. The protagonists in these genres are rarely role models; they pursue their objectives by any means at their disposal, often subverting law and civil society. Readers interested in crime fiction may be drawn to the exploration of moral ambiguity, complex characterizations, or vivid descriptions of life outside mainstream society.

When you're alone and life is making you lonely, you can always go...to the humor genre! Guffaws, cackles, smirks, and mwahahahas abound in these novels. While other genres make use of humor, the sole purpose of these stories is to make the reader laugh. Humor ranges in tone, in audience level, and in situations — from witty dialogue and absurd scenarios to dark humor and sarcastic critiques on society's flaws.

Christian Fiction

Discover the perfect read in Christian Fiction

Christian fiction incorporates a Christian worldview, though the prevalence of that view may vary. In some novels, the characters’ belief system may simply shape their decisions, while in others a conversion or a crisis of faith may drive the plot.

Comics & Graphic Novels

Bam! Pow! Splat! Comics and graphic novels refer to a specific format. The terms are often used interchangeably for book-length narratives and collections of shorter stories told through sequential art. Here you'll find everything from superhero comics to manga to collected webcomics, as well as graphic novel hybrids, which combine comic book-style art with more traditional, novel-like text.

Search Tips

Need a bittersweet, character-driven love story with themes of immigrant experiences and life during wartime? NoveList is here to help! Combine genres, appeals, and themes to pinpoint the right stories. Here are some of our favorite combos — just type them as seen below into the NoveList search box:

AP amusing AND TH being a friend
For a chuckle-worthy story time full of fun and friendship, look for amusing picture books that feature friendship. Add cartoony for cute and accessible illustrations.

GN science fiction AND AP fast-paced AND TH human 2.0
For otherworldly experiences at a breakneck pace, readers who are fans of SF with enhanced beings should search for fast-paced and human 2.0.

AP suspenseful AND TH unreliable narrator
Fans of Gone Girl and The Girl on the Train should look into suspenseful stories that feature unreliable narrators to find their next perfect page-turner.

AP distinctly voiced AND AP immersive
On a road trip with the family? Some of the best audiobooks have narrators who use distinct voices. Combine with a theme to find a title that works for your family. Some to try: alien invasions, chosen one, Sherlock Paws, life in small towns.
This book is the result of the work of many people. Thank you to everyone below and to all the library staff who work tirelessly on behalf of readers.

Booklet Planning and Design
Danielle Borasky, Elizabeth Coleman, Halle Eisenman, Victoria Caplinger Fredrick, Rebecca Honeycutt, Cathleen Keyser, Jennifer Lohmann, Denise Turner, Christine Wells

In memory of Amy Elizabeth Morgan
“Stories form the heart of libraries. Isn’t it time we acknowledge that Story is our brand?”
