

Petroleum Abstracts TULSA® Database

The Essential Source for Oil & Gas Exploration and Production Literature

Stay current with Petroleum Abstracts TULSA® Database, the petroleum industry's preeminent information resource for coverage of Exploration and Production-related scientific and technical knowledge.

EBSCO customers can access this core E&P resource, through a range of integration and interface options to best fit their workflows and information needs.

“Considering the substantial number of petroleum college departments and related programs in the world and the present state of the economy, the information presented is significant.” – Science & Technology Libraries

Be More Efficient, More Knowledgeable, and More Competitive

- Indexed bibliographic references and abstracts for scientific and technical articles from 300 journals and 200 conferences proceedings worldwide
- Patent gazettes and full-text patents
- Government documents
- Dissertations
- Books
- And much more

Covering all key Exploration and Production topics:

- Alternate fuels and energy fuels
- Business and economics
- Drilling
- Geochemistry
- Geology
- Geophysics
- Health, safety and environment
- Pipelining
- Production of oil and gas
- Reservoir engineering & recovery methods
- Science and engineering
- Shipping and storage
- Well completion and servicing
- Well logging

www.ebscohost.com/corporate-research/petroleum-abstracts-tulsa-database

Contact your EBSCO Sales representative for more information:

(978) 356-6500 | information@ebsco.com

EBSCO