3:11 PM "Given that the Fantasy genre (and Science Fiction) are trending towards e-Books and e-Media in both the public and private areas, as well as a lot more authors are self-publishing without printing, a lot of readers don't come in very often and stick to e-resources, meaning we interact with them less than other genres. Are there any recommendations on how to bridge the electronic gap between librarians and patrons of the genre?"

3:11 PM Thank you

3:11 PM additional cost not included w/novelist?
