Welcome

Have you ever wondered if books have their own secret language? We at NoveList think they do, and we call it appeal.

Appeal is how a book whispers to a reader. It’s how a memoir leaves them feeling inspired or a novel leaves them wondering if the narrator was being straight with them, long after they’ve closed the pages.

When books speak to us at NoveList and to readers in your library in appeal, they aren’t speaking about subject matter (nurses, diaries, Presidents, Antarctica, etc.), they are speaking style and how the book feels.

Using the groundwork laid by Joyce Saricks, Nancy Pearl, Neal Wyatt, and others, NoveList introduced our vocabulary describing book appeal in 2010. We created this language in response to readers, librarians, and reading trends and, with your help, it’s grown and adapted to serve you better.

We’ve pulled nuance out of “Funny,” adding eight additional terms, including “Sardonic” and “Silly.” Similarly, we are better able to describe illustration appeal for readers of all ages, from Goodnight Moon to Fun Home.

Our metadata librarians spend their days discussing and evaluating appeal to make your job of finding a reader’s next amazing read, easier. We’re proud of this work and we’re proud of the role you played in making it happen.

We welcome your feedback to make appeal even better! What term would help you find your next favorite book? Let us know at novelist@ebsco.com.

Happy reading!

Starter Questions
Use these to start conversations with readers.

- Can you tell me about a book you’ve read and enjoyed?
- What movies and TV shows have you enjoyed?
- Which of your favorite authors or series do you wish had a new book?
- What are you in the mood for today?
Pace is the rate at which a story unfolds for the reader. We identify books at either end of the spectrum. We also tag those that start slowly, then accelerate as the story progresses.

Fast-paced
Events in these exciting books unfold rapidly, moving the reader quickly through the story.

Intensifying
These books gradually build in momentum throughout the story, resulting in a gripping conclusion.

Leisurely paced
Due to descriptive language, focus on detail, or careful development of character or setting, these books unfold slowly, allowing the reader to savor the narrative.

Why so few pace terms? According to Neal Wyatt, nobody’s really looking for “medium-paced” books – it’s only an active appeal when it stands out on the spectrum.
Making Comparisons

Use comparisons to dig deeper into reading preferences. Do you prefer action-packed or character-driven stories? Fast or leisurely paced? Heartwarming and homespun, or disturbing and creepy?
Storyline

Storyline is a quick way to determine a book’s focus and structure.

Action-packed
Pulse-pounding, high-octane excitement is the rule!

Character-driven Fiction use only
Interior growth and development of characters is important.

Intricately plotted
These books have intricate, complicated, or elaborate storylines, often involving multiple plots or numerous narrative twists and turns.

Issue-oriented
Issue-oriented books explore controversial themes, which may cover emotional, ethical, or social problems.

Nonlinear
Instead of being portrayed chronologically, events in these books shift between time periods.

Open-ended
Instead of providing answers, these books invite readers to ponder events long after the last page.

Plot-driven Fiction use only
Events rather than characters propel these stories forward.

Sweeping
These sprawling stories span decades or generations and frequently include multiple locations and historical events.

Unconventional New term in 2017
Using unique or unexpected elements, these books may twist, adapt, or play on conventional storylines.

World-building
These books immerse the reader in vivid imaginary worlds of invented histories, languages, geography, or cultures.
Using Tone to Narrow a Genre

How much sex is too much? Whether romance readers are looking for some good, clean fun, or a down and dirty romp, appeal can help find their safe word (or comfort zone).

SWEET ROMANCES
- TRY Chaste
- Heartwarming
- Homespun

MILD ROMANCES
- TRY Mildly sensuous
- Upbeat

HOT ROMANCES
- TRY Explicit
- Moody
- Steamy
Tone is the feeling that a book evokes in the reader. In many cases, this category best answers the question, “What are you in the mood for?”

Amusing
They may not make you laugh out loud, but these stories have a light humor that sometimes accentuates more serious themes.

Angst-filled
Characters in these books experience problems associated with adolescence, such as questions about sexuality, popularity, or social standing.

Atmospheric
These books evoke the story’s setting, whether it’s a gothic mansion or a small Midwestern town.

Bittersweet
A mixed emotional edge—both pleasant and painful—that is sustained throughout the story.

Bleak
A dark outlook, frequently devoid of faith in human nature and tending away from hope or optimism.

Chaste
These books about romantic relationships focus on the emotions of the characters, and contain no sex or descriptions of sexual activity.

Conservative
Nonfiction use only
Represents a conservative (often Republican) perspective on American politics and social issues such as the environment, poverty, and the economy.
Tone

- Creepy
  Unsettling in a visceral, skin-crawling way, these books make the reader uneasy, and may often have supernatural elements and eerie settings.

- Darkly humorous

- Disturbing
  Approaching the darker side of human nature, these books are unsettling and often portray socially marginal or dysfunctional individuals.

- Feel-good
  A gentle, comfortable, and hopeful feeling (not just a happy ending).

- Funny
  Laugh-out-loud humor characterizes these books.

- Gossipy
  Actions and people tend to be over-the-top and salacious.

- Gross
  Yuck! Including lots of nasty, oozy, or disgusting facts or details, these books may be educational or purely for entertainment.

Haunting
Often because of hard-hitting storylines, these books have a memorable, unforgettable quality that stays with the reader.

Heartwarming
These uplifting stories ultimately leave readers feeling emotionally satisfied.

Hopeful
While addressing weighty issues, these books incorporate some optimistic elements, expressing the belief that things may improve.

Impartial  Nonfiction use only
Presents a balanced view of a contentious subject.

Impassioned  Nonfiction use only

Inspiring
These books have an inspirational, enlightening, or uplifting quality, which may or may not be religious in nature.

Irreverent
No institutions, people, or beliefs are off-limits in these humorous (and sometimes subversive) books.

Liberal  Nonfiction use only

Melancholy
While not grim or hopeless, these books are sad, somber, or gloomy.

Menacing
A sense of threat or menace pervades, evoking feelings of dread.

Spiritual  Nonfiction use only

Steamy
In adult books, the sex is pretty vivid and goes beyond just innuendo. In teen books, there is still an unmistakably sexy aura, although perhaps not as much graphic detail.

Strong sense of place
Powerfully depicted locales—real or imaginary—come alive and give a good sense of what makes a place unique.

Suspenseful
Ranging in intensity from subtle psychological unease to nail-biting suspense, these books keep readers on edge.

Violent
Not for the faint of heart, these books contain explicit or graphic violence.

Whimsical
These fanciful and playful books will charm and enchant readers, and often include fairy tales or other elements of fantasy.

For readers with a passion for place, direct them to books with a strong sense of place, and then pair it with a subject heading for a location—anything from Paris to Middle Earth.
Characters readers love
(and the appeal that tells you why)

Readers fall in love with Nimona, the quirky, spirited, strong female villain, even as she’s planning attacks on cities with genetically modified dragons.

Trapped on Mars, courageous Mark Watney keeps readers on the edge of our seats, but it’s his snarky sense of humor that makes him relatable.

Competition between brothers as told by Josh, a believable character appealing to middle grade kids into sports and culturally diverse characters.
Only applied to fiction books, character appeal is especially for those readers who love books because of the characters.

Ability diverse
These characters live with physical, mental, or emotional conditions that can often be challenging.

Anthropomorphic
From cats solving mysteries to crayons quitting their day jobs, the non-human characters in these books offer a unique perspective.

Authentic
These characters behave in ways that accord with their age, nationality, and backgrounds.

Awkward
Often unsure of themselves, these characters lack the social savvy to navigate relationships and other interpersonal situations smoothly.

Believable
These characters ring true for young readers, and behave in ways that are consistent with their age and backgrounds.

Brooding
Haunted by past traumas or mistakes, these morose characters contemplate (and often must confront) what is wrong in the world.

Character duos
From best friends to odd couples, these books feature dynamic duos who take on the world together!
Character

Complex
Intriguing and complicated, these multi-dimensional characters have conflicting motivations and desires.

Courageous
These brave and often self-sacrificing characters have strong convictions and face challenges with determination, despite the odds against them.

Culturally diverse
These books may feature characters from racial and ethnic minorities living in the United States, Europe, Canada, or Australia, as well as characters from non-white cultural groups living in other parts of the world.

Exaggerated
These larger-than-life characters often delight readers by adding to the humor or uniqueness of a story.

Flawed
These characters do not always act in their own best interests, and their sometimes misguided decisions form a central theme in the story.

Introspective
These characters examine their own feelings, thoughts, and motives, and what they find often has major repercussions for the story.

Large cast of characters
Whether because of sprawling storylines, epic scopes, or intricate plots, these books contain lots of characters—how well readers get to know them depends on the author.
Character

LGBTQIA diverse
Identifying as lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer, intersex, asexual, or just questioning, these characters are not stereotypes and are important to the story (even if in a secondary role).

Likeable
These appealing characters engage readers and are likeable, despite flaws.

Mischievous
These child characters frequently get into trouble or cause minor disasters due to their curiosity or intentional disregard for the rules.

Quirky
Eccentric and idiosyncratic, these characters range from peculiar to bizarre, and generally add to the charm or humor of the stories in which they appear.

Relatable
Because their emotions and experiences are recognizable, readers are able to identify with these characters and their dilemmas.

Religiously diverse
These characters follow or have a background in a religion other than Christianity. While their active level of involvement in the religion may vary, the character’s religious beliefs are an important element in the story.

Responding to the recent call for more diversity (#WeNeedDiverseBooks) in children’s literature, we call out different kinds of diversity in our character appeal terms. Look for ability diverse, culturally diverse, LGBTQIA diverse, and religiously diverse characters.
Sarcastic
These young characters sometimes employ sarcasm for humor, and sometimes in response to difficult or challenging situations.

Sassy
These books feature characters (usually women) with outsized personalities and a bottomless well of one-liners and comebacks.

Snarky
These characters employ sarcasm, irony, and biting wit in their approach to life (and often have fun with it!).

Spirited
These lively characters are full of energy and vigor.

Spunky
Feisty and scrappy, these characters have pluck and determination.

Strong female
Whether catching criminals or saving the world, these take-charge women and girls are at the top of their game.

Sympathetic
While sometimes dealing with difficult situations or making poor decisions, these characters are presented in such a way that readers empathize with them.

Twisted
Deviant and often unsettling, these characters push the boundaries of literature through behavior that ranges from disturbing to illegal.
Have a reader who doesn’t mind spending time with uncomfortable characters?

Try books with unlikeable or twisted characters, or with an unreliable narrator.

Unlikeable
Deliberately painted in an unflattering light, these characters will not gain the sympathy of readers, so there is less emotional investment if and when bad things happen to them.

Unreliable narrator
Readers may not be able to trust the version of events narrated to them in these complex and sometimes disturbing stories.

Well-developed
Sometimes appearing in more plot-driven stories, these characters rise above others in the strength of their development.
Different Writing Styles

Appeal helps compare very different styles...

---

LYRICAL

I am born not long from the time or far from the place where my great-great-grandparents worked the deep rich land unfree dawn till dusk unpaid drank cool water from scooped out gourds looked up and followed the sky’s mirrored constellation to freedom.

-- from Brown Girl Dreaming by Jacqueline Woodson

---

THOUGHTFUL

Where was Incandesto when you needed him?
Not that Flora really believed in superheroes. But still.
She stood at the window and watched as the squirrel was vacuumed up.
Poof. Fwump.
“Holy bagumba,” said Flora.

-- from Flora & Ulysses by Kate DiCamillo

Different kinds of Illustrations

Need a storytime book? Big and bold illustrations can be seen from across a crowd. Detailed books give young readers a chance to pore over the pictures. Colorful books are eye-catching for appealing displays!

- Big and Bold
  - Little Red by Bethan Woollvin

- Detailed
  - The Night Gardener

- Colorful
  - Freedom in Congo Square
Both picture books and graphic novels have a unique set of qualities important to their readers, from color and drawing style to the mood evoked by the illustrations.

Big and bold
These illustrations convey ideas visually in a simple manner easily understood by young children. The contrast between bright colors and bold lines makes the pictures easily visible from a distance, even within a large group (and thus these books are a great choice for storytime!)

Black-and-white
The artwork is in black and white only, and may range from pen and ink drawings to watercolor-like effects in shades of gray.

Bold
The shapes or lines in these illustrations have a strong and striking appearance. The artwork may consist of simple, basic, or block-like shapes, and the lines may be dark, distinct, or thick.

Cartoony
This style features characters drawn with exaggerated, simplified features. Often humorous, it can be used to lighten difficult or disturbing themes.

Charming
These illustrations are captivating and pleasing to the eye. Often cute and playful, they offer visual support for the light or upbeat tone in a story.

Colorful
The full-color illustrations in these books feature vibrant colors. The artwork may vary widely, but the color palette is vivid.
Illustration

Dark
Often used for emphasis in stories with a bleak, menacing, or serious tone, these illustrations are full of shadows and dark corners.

Delicate
Deft and fine in texture or structure. Lines are thinly drawn, and the effect of these pictures is subtle.

Detailed
These books convey a lot of information through the quantity and clarity of the detail within the objects and offer readers the chance to pore over the pictures.

Fanciful New term in 2017
These illustrations are imaginative and unexpected and may range from whimsical drawings to surrealistic art with a dreamlike quality.

Folk-art style
Recognized by its flat perspective, simplified or stylized shapes, and dramatic use of color; frequently appears to be created by either an untrained artist or one who does not adhere to academic standards for art.

Impressionistic
These evocative illustrations use soft lines, reflected light, and color to capture a sensory, emotion-filled impression of a scene or an object.

Inventive
These creative books challenge the reader’s perceptions with non-standard use of illustrative elements (including line, panels, or color).

Lavish
Whether through use of color, line, or detail, these illustrations are elaborate, sumptuous, and striking.
Minimally colored
Featuring a limited color palette, these books can be two-toned or grayscale with one or two brighter colors used as accents.

Muted
The subtle color may have a washed out or subdued quality. This restraint in the use of color often serves to set the tone of the story.

Nightmarish
Deliberately ugly, frightening, or unpleasant. Most likely to accompany storylines that are unpleasant with a creepy, disturbing, or menacing tone.

Photographic
These books use photographs as the primary method of illustration. Often found in nonfiction books where photographs are the primary illustrations.

Realistic
These illustrations use correct proportions and accurate perspective. The content may not represent reality, but the drawing does.

Rough-edged
These illustrations are not sophisticated, polished, or elegant; instead, they have jagged lines and imperfect images, which serve to convey and emphasize the strong emotions being portrayed.

Surreal
These illustrations have a dreamlike or unreal quality, and express the workings of the subconscious. Typically done in a realistic style, they use unexpected juxtapositions of people or objects.

Textured
The visible texture of these illustrations adds realistic depth and detail through the skillful use of artistic medium.
